ZEY PYVRON, SHOW GIRL, IS PUT ON STAND

Guest At Party Given By Arbuckle Tells of His Going Into Room With Miss
Rappe and Illness of Latter

Comedian and Dead Actress
Absent Three-Quarters of An Hour, She Testifies At Murder Hearing in S. F.

RAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Zey Pyvron-Preston, one of the show girls participating in Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle's Hotel St. Francis party, which led to the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was the first witness today in the Arbuckle murder hearing here.

Arbuckle, Miss Rappe, Mrs. Bambina Delmont, Miss Alice Blake, Alfred Sennacher and Lowell Sherman were in Arbuckle's suite when she joined the party, she testified. Arbuckle and Sherman were dressed in pyjamas, bath robes and slippers, she said.

Miss Rappe was seated on a settee at Arbuckle's side, according to the witness, who said she saw "a little bit" of drinking. Fred Fischbach later joined the party. Miss Pyvron added, and others were in and out of the room.

ARBUCKLE FOLLOWED ACTRESS, SHE DECLARED.

"Did you see Miss Rappe leave the room at any time?" asked Assistant District Attorney Milton U'Ren.

"About an hour later," she replied.

Arbuckle followed Miss Rappe into the room adjoining the one where the party was gathered, closing the door, Miss Pyvron continued.

About three-quarters of an hour later, according to the witness, she and Mrs. Delmont stepped on the door and the latter kicked it saying loudly, "Open the door; I want to go to Virginia."

Arbuckle opened the door. Miss Pyvron testified, and stepped into Room 1220, the scene of the festivities, whereupon she and Mrs. Delmont went into Room 1219 and found Virginia Rappe in bed.

ACTRESS WAS FULLY DRESSED, SHE TESTIFIED.

"She was fully dressed, but her hair was hanging down." She was moaning, the witness added.

"Mrs. Delmont and I went over, and asked her what was the matter," Miss Pyvron said.

"She said, 'I am dying, I am dying.' I know I am going to die."

"Oh, no, you are not going to die," I replied, and then she sat up in bed and started to tear off her waist and stockings. Mr. Arbuckle then came in and started to help pull at her waist."

Miss Rappe's clothes then were taken off according to the witness, and she was put on a bed.

"Then I heard her start to cry again. 'I am dying. He hurt me,' said Miss Pyvron.

A restrain given the girl caused her to become sick at her stomach, the witness continued.

Then Fischbach entered the room and Miss Rappe was dipped in a tub of cold water, according to the testimony.

"She cried loudly again when she was put back on the bed," Miss Pyvron said.

"Then Arbuckle said, 'If you don't stop yelling, I'll throw you out of the window.'

TELEPHONE MESSAGE WAS INTERRUPTED.

Arbuckle then went back into the other room, Miss Pyvron continued, but soon returned, applying ice to Miss Rappe with the statement "That'll make her come to."

In an answer to a question from the prosecution, Miss Pyvron said, "We did not hear Mrs. Delmont say, 'Roscoe, you will have your little boy.'

Someone put in a telephone call for aid, Miss Pyvron stated, but some other person jerked away the receiver, saying no attorney was wanted.

While Arbuckle and Miss Rappe were out of the room, she said, there was music being played and "plenty of noise."

The defense, however, denied this.

Miss Pyvron stated that she received an invitation by telephone to come to Arbuckle's party. She had met the comedian a long time before, she said, but he did not remember her. She did not know who the invitation came from, she said, and when she entered Arbuckle's suite there were no introductions, merely a request to "take off your hat, and make yourself at home."

Miss Pyvron and Alice Blake have been living at the home of an attorney of the district attorney's office, the witness testified. She denied having talked the case over with Miss Blake or anyone else except the district attorney and his aides.

DENIES THREAT OF PERJURY CHARGES.

She denied also having been told she would be charged with perjury if she refused to sign her statement made to District Attorney Brady.

"We were having too good a time to notice what time Miss Rappe and Mr. Arbuckle left the party in his suite," she replied to a question of the defense. She maintained, however, that she did not have anything to drink.

Miss Pyvron sort of skipped into Room 1219. Miss Pyvron explained. At the same time Lowell Sherman and Alice Blake went into Room 1221, the other room opening off Room 1220, she said.

When Arbuckle followed Miss Rappe she did not hear any bolt turn according to the witness who said she followed Sherman and Miss Blake into Room 1221 to powder her nose. Returning to Room 1220, she was a member of the committee.

New Conference on Irish Peace
Is Believed Near

British Premier Will Send To De Valera Tomorrow the Final Note On Parley.

THE UNITED PRESS.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Barring possible dissension by certain cabinet ministers, a peace conference between Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries and the British cabinet committee will be held in London next week, it was learned today.

The note from Lloyd George inviting De Valera to send a delegation was to be forwarded tomorrow and made public Thursday, according to present plans.

The view of nearly all the British ministers who have been considering the rough draft of Lloyd George's proposed reply had been received to date, according to a report from Garlick. There was no reason, it was said, to anticipate that any serious opposition would find the premier less than amenable.

In that case his reply would indicate clearly to De Valera it was said, that it was the last word of the British government on the subject of the proposed conference. It would definitely refuse to recognize Irish independence, while leaving De Valera and his colleagues free to do what they choose.

LEADERSHIP TO THE UNITED KINGDOM.

BELFAST, Sept. 27.—This city was virtually under martial law today, with the riot act in effect and was comparatively peaceful.

Two men were slightly wounded by fusillades during the night. Shops were attacked and the furniture was removed to the street and sand was thrown over the windows.

The military has issued a proclamation forbidding three or more persons to meet in the streets after 9:30 at night.

Coupled with the announcement was a statement that the Industrial Relations board and the material dealers was considered as a fulfillment of the pledge to return to work in July on more favorable terms.

The cut applies to rock, gravel and sand and will be effective next Saturday, October 1.

Coupled with the announcement was a statement that the Industrial Relations board and the material dealers was considered as a fulfillment of the pledge to return to work in July on more favorable terms.

The new prices on rock, gravel and sand will be as follows:

INLOTS OF LESS THAN 500 Yards.

Rock and gravel reduced from $2.90 to $2.75 a yard, a reduction of 5 per cent.

Sand reduced from $2.40 to $2.25, a reduction of 6 per cent.

In lots of More Than 500 Yards.

Rock and gravel reduced from $2.90 to $2.65 a yard, a reduction of 6 per cent.

Sand reduced from $2.40 to $2.15, a reduction of 10.4 per cent.

The new schedule applies to districts No. 1, the downtown section of Oakland.

The reductions, according to the material dealers, will come out of their own pockets, the wholesalers and producers having flatly refused to make any concession, they said.

As G. G. Jamieson, spokesman for the material dealers, told the Industrial Relations board:

"The said rock, gravel men are all of one opinion—that they will not reduce prices one cent. If there is to be any reduction, we material dealers will have to take it out of our own pockets."

When the material dealers come forward and agree to reduce their prices," said Harrison S. Robinson, chairman of the Industrial Relations board, "then the committee will be satisfied."

Mr. S. J. Foyen, president of the material dealers, said: "It is not fair to let them stand there and carry on with their own pockets."

To the miners and the public may rest assured that no time will be lost in taking the proper steps to secure the facts."

Mr. E. E. Collins, attorney general, said: "I am going to die."

"Oh, no, you are not going to die," I replied, and then she sat up in bed and started to tear off her waist and stockings. Mr. Arbuckle then came in and started to help pull at her waist."

Miss Rappe's clothes then were taken off according to the witness, and she was put on a bed.

AUTO BUREAU TO BE HOUSED IN NEW BLOCK

Building Will be Erected on Harrison Near Fifteenth to Run Through to Alice St. Under Lease With State

Supply Dealers Announce Reduction in Prices, but Say Quarry and Rock Men Refuse to Make Concessions

The Oakland branch of the State Motor Vehicle Department will be housed in a new reinforced concrete building to be erected before November 1 on Harrison street, adjoining the Oakland Garage, and across from Hotel Oakland.

Work on the new building, which is to be one-story with mezzanine floor, is to be started at once, according to Lloyd Brothers, owners of the Oakland Garage, who have signed the lease with Charles J. Chevalier, head of the Motor Vehicle Department.

The new building is to be 60 by 15 feet and will run through to Alice street. A part 60 by 75 feet will be devoted to the licensing bureau on a three-year lease to the State.

Announcement of the definite action that has brought to an end the long campaign for a licensing bureau has been authorized by union leaders and by the general grievance committee of the organization, if the result of the strike vote now being counted indicates that the members desire a license.

According to the strike plan, if the members desire a license, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, announced today.

Murdock denied emphatically the statement published here today that "railway union officials are reluctant to authorize a coup of the country's transportation facilities," and that "the workers' vote for a walkout does not give the oil operators and employers a clear clash between the Department of Labor and the Department of Commerce. The Labor Department's figures are based on reports from 1750 leading industrial establishments throughout the country. These reports indicate a reduction of 25 per cent in the working force, as compared with war production, but two estimates show that the oil operators and producers are not willing to cease their lot with the government and submit a strike settlement to the federal oil board.

Copies were sent to President Harding, Secretary Davis of the Department of War, and other government officials.

COPIES TO THE UNITED STATES

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—A strike of 185,000 railway trainmen of the United States has been authorized by the Oil Producers' Association of California. After reciting two thousand ex-service men, the wire asked whether the oil operators and producers are not willing to cease their lot with the government and submit a strike settlement to the federal oil board.

Copies were sent to President Harding, Secretary Davis of the Department of War, and other government officials.

COPIES TO THE UNITED STATES

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 27.—With delinquent statements emanating from both operators and unions, settlement of the oil strike which has completely tied up the Kern county fields appeared remote today.

This method Secretary of Commerce Hoover believes is entirely inaccurate, because the percentage is less in many other plants and many people who usually do not work, including thousands of women employed in industrial plants during the war.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, will arrive here tomorrow, and the strike will be reduced to 80 per cent of the men favor a strike. Union leaders were reticent as to the probable date for the strike, if one is authorized, but it was learned that a strike for war production would not be completed for several days.

Exhaustion of savings is forcing men to take work now at reduced pay.

Walter J. Yarrow, advisor of the oil workers' union, reported the statement he recently made to Governor Stephens.

"Before we will yield that principle we will dig trenches and live on beans."

But with all the wartime preparations, there is an apparent desire for peace, undercurrent on both sides.

AMERICAN HUMOR IS PETERED OUT, BARROWS CLAIMS

Used Car Show Adds Stimulus To Auto Trade

Business Along Row Reported Brisker and Interest in Models Increase.

By JIM HOULIHAN.

That general business conditions are good in Oakland, and a healthy volume of trade is in store this fall for automotive merchants are impressions one gathers from conversations at the Used Car Show in the Downtown Garage building. In the evenings, the combined attendance, according to several of the dealers who keep a close count of the activity in motor circles, has been greater in numbers of people viewing the exhibits, than are to be seen in several weeks along Broadway.

"We have a great language, a very great language, but one which lends itself to distortion and corruption. This susceptibility to corruption is more noticeable than in any other language of which I know. We should therefore study other languages in order to improve our own."

"Language is growing rapidly in America, but it is doubtful if it is improving. We need an association for the study and cultivation of the national speech. Language and literature should be so taught as to produce a sense of humor and heightened imagination."

FINE HUMOR LACKING.

"The absence of fine humor is the basis of most of the vulgarity of our time, and our lack of imagination leads us to indifference on the one hand and sentimentality on the other."

Dr. Barrows also referred to American music, declaring that much was needed and must be cultivated.

"Ours is not what it was," he continued. "Nowadays all college music is Africanized, and a way that would not be recognized in Africa itself. We are constantly beset by jazz bands and the drum sounds of the Congo."

Dr. Barrows said that there "is no place on earth which can equal facets of art and physique that we have come to expect in our cars in the schools of California." He added: "They are truly more magnificent than the human race has ever before evolved. To maintain this high standard, the body of the child must be solicitously guarded and carefully surrounded at all times. Types of unprecedent beauty exist among our youth. They should be taught to preserve that beauty and physical vigor unto old age."

WOOD IS CHAIRMAN.

Wm. C. Wood, State Superintendent of Instruction, opened the convention as temporary chairman, and later was made permanent chairman. He said the present year was one of the busiest in the annals of educational matters in California.

"More has been done for education in California since our last convention than in any other community in the world in an equal length of time," Wood said.

The superintendent also said that the state must dwell upon most important and the building of character.

"The wave of crime about us, the growing disregard of law, the orgies that shock decent citizens," he said, "arises largely to the passions unleashed during the war. These passions must be shackled if civilization is to survive."

De Molay Concert Plans Completed.

The preliminary examination of Jess Entelmann, who is charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated was set for Thursday morning by Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell.

He was arrested on Sunday evening at the corner of Fourteenth and Clay streets after he had left his club, the Society of Salvation Army workers who were holding services at the corner of Fourteenth street and San Pablo avenue. Edward Baldwin, commandant of the Salvation Army, swore to the warrant which caused his arrest. Entelmann resides at 1429 Adeline street.

Mrs. Walter Ridley will have charge.

The regular meeting of the Lincoln School Parent-Teachers' Association will be held this afternoon, with Mrs. Byron Hendrickson presiding. The program to follow the meeting will be in charge of W. L. Stratton, instructor of music in the Alameda schools.

ARRIVAL OF FOOD DRIVES DESPAIR FROM RUSS CITY

Famine and Disease Halted: Children Unable To Recognize Chocolate.

By ANNA LOUISE STRONG, Special Correspondent International News Service.

SAMARA, Russia, Sept. 24, via London, Sept. 27.—This city is beginning to emerge from the depths of despair into which it had been cast by famine and disease—thanks to foreign food and medicines which are now moving in fairly large quantities.

Following the arrival of relief train No. 3, feeding stations have been set up throughout the city for women and children. The rations usually consist of vegetable soup, bread and a stick of chocolate.

Being a member of the Friends' relief organization, I personally distributed chocolate among 4000 children. It was a four-hours' job and a pleasant task. The older children were most appreciative, while the young ones received it with wondering looks on their faces. Most of them had never seen any chocolate before, owing to the scarcity caused by the war and the blockade of Russia.

The lot owners voted to remove the bodies to a cemetery in San Mateo county and to fill in the graves and sell the lots for building sites.

The suit was brought by Assemblyman William B. Hornberger to prevent the cemetery association from acting on the authority of the lot owners' meeting. He questions the constitutionality of the law.

'Rubberneck' Tours Planned By Clubwomen

By EDNA B. KINARD.
Will you take a 'Rubberneck' ride?

It is the means by which the civic section of Park Boulevard Club, with the co-operation of other civic groups proposes to educate the clubwomen in the industrial, social and educational institutions of Oakland, the show places and points of interest which are here.

"If we are going to 'sell' our city to the world, we must know something about it," the leaders proclaim. Hence the 'rubberneck' tour is being planned. Whether or not the sights can be crowded into one day or whether a series of little journeys will or necessity be demanded, is still under discussion. It is acknowledged among the clubwomen that they hold little definite and talking arguments in behalf of Oakland; that they know little of the great industries which flank the waterfront, the recreational projects which are carried on; the public institutions, the health organizations, the unique objects and sights which makes Oakland different from other cities. They will give over a part of the early season to educating themselves.

Taking a sightseeing trip with an official spieler, whether self-appointed or professional, over the home town, is not without its dangers. The idea is being received with enthusiasm along with the admission that few or the local women have ever made such a journey. Definite announcement of the Oakland tour will be made with regard to day.

The plan is in line with the program adopted by Mrs. Jessie Wood Gustason, chairman of the project for Alameda district, California Federation of Women's Clubs, who is giving her co-operation to the project.

Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald, president of California Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. George A. Rigg, president of Alameda district, C. F. W. C.; and Mrs. L. R. Rosenberg, president of Alameda county, C. F. W. C.; were guests of honor at a brilliant reception which the Twentieth Century Club gave this afternoon in the Derby street clubhouse.

Mrs. Annette Abbot Adams, Assistant United States Attorney-General under the Wilson administration, will be the guest of honor and speaker before the Business and Professional women.

Some project under which may be offered for sale the handwork of the women prisoners of San Quentin is being considered by leaders in the California Federation of Women's Clubs. According to the department which is giving attention to the plan, at the present time there is no scheme for disposal of their work open to the women in the State penitentiary. They say many of the women have found a way outside the prison walls. The clubwomen would act as professional Woman's Club at dinner on Thursday night. "The Department of Justice" will be discussed by the San Francisco woman who has been widely feted since her return to California a fortnight ago. The club will celebrate the September function in the quarters formerly occupied by the Nile Club at 660 Thirteenth street. Mrs. Gladys Barnsdall, president, will preside as toastmistress.

Protest against a proposed tax on musical instruments is being sent to Senators and Representatives by the California Federation of Women's Clubs and by the executive board of Alameda district, C. F. W. C. Action was taken by the district board on Saturday following a presentation of the content of the federal bill.

Local women's clubs have received requests from the chairmen of music in state and general federations to protest passage of the bill providing the tax to the Congressmen.

A reciprocity and membership round table is announced for Thursday by Oakland federation of Mothers' Clubs in the Young Woman's Christian Association. The conference is a special one, called to start reciprocal projects of work along these lines. Local reciprocity and membership chairmen are urged to attend the 2 o'clock discussion.

Final details for the annual Reciprocity Luncheon to be given at Hotel Oakland on Thursday, October 22, will be adopted. Mrs. J. W. White, reciprocity chairman of the federation, will preside as chairman at the round table devoted to this subject.

Mrs. Jack T. Walker, membership chairman, will outline plans for an intensive city-wide campaign directed at increasing materially the membership of the organization.

WOMEN HURT WHEN NEW AUTO TURNS TURTLE

"Tooth" Said To Be Cause
Of Wreck On San Jose Highway.

AN JOSE, Sept. 27.—A pleasure in a newly purchased automobile spurned on, according to officers, by a slight hit of "tooth," started disastrously last night for San Franciscans men, two of whom are in the East Columbia hospital this morning.

The three are J. Giacometti, owner and operator of the new violin music and F. Sparapani, who are members of the hospice Sparapani being the most seriously injured. He incurred a possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries, besides cuts and lacerations. Music was badly cut and sliced.

The men were traveling toward Edenvale, a point near the Edenvale depot, south of here, shortly before 9 o'clock last night and were racing, it is said, at an excessive rate of speed. At first they struck a steep bank, none were intoxicated, suddenly the car careened to the right of the road, struck the soft dirt, turned turtle, pinning the occupants beneath the wreckage. They were extricated with difficulty by driving ants and later rushed to hospital here by ambulance.

Livestock Goes On Party When Wine Is Loosed

ESCALON, Sept. 27.—Fishes, cows and horses went on a wild spree at the Rampoldi ranch when 3500 gallons of perfectly good red wine were poured into an irrigation ditch by federal and county officers at the Rampoldi ranch and ranch hands with parched tongues and gaping mouths stood about suffering from severe thirst.

Now the Rampoldis, Joe and Elsie, are at liberty on bonds of $2,000 each to answer in the federal court at Sacramento to a charge of manufacturing and selling intoxicating liquor. U. S. Commissioner Gerald B. Wallace of Stockton gave them a hearing.

The men are reported to have grown wealthy out of the liquor business in this ranch in two years. Several large stills were found and quantities of strong intoxicants in addition to many barrels of good wine.

City Council Takes A Needed Holiday

SAN JOSE, Sept. 27.—With five city officials absent from the city, due to their attendance at the sessions of the state convention of the California League of Municipalities at Santa Monica, the local city council last night played "hooky" and adjourned after 10 minutes of meeting, in which they did nothing but argue about who should be president during the absence of Mr. Albert C. Jayet. Nobody wanted the job and nobody had ambitious friends. Some wanted to go to the movies, so without fear of a scolding from City Manager C. E. Goodwin, the meeting broke up in a grand rush for the hot room.

Three Servants, Used Car Wilson's Establishment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—Woodrow Wilson fell sick man just two years ago. Since then he has passed away. After dinner he goes in for reading or amusement. Once a week he has a motion picture show of his own. Occasionally he goes to a vaudeville show. It rarely happens that somebody fails to discover the visitors and a demonstration of handclapping ensues.

Wilson lives by the eight-hour day. He aims to have eight hours for sleep, eight hours at work and eight hours for relaxation and keeps to the schedule pretty fairly.

Seven a.m. is about his rising time. He shaves and bathes alone and then takes some calisthenic exercises. He has breakfast in Mrs. Wilson's boudoir. The morning papers never are neglected.

HIS MAIL IS HEAVY.

Then comes the morning's work. Wilson's car always a week, delivers quite a packet of letters. Old friends write informal friendly notes or discourse on politics. Schools and colleges ask donations; individuals for personal financial assistance. Others discourse on the shortcomings of the Republican party. Autograph hunters are numerous. Various men writing their autograph is the same as Mr. Wilson's want to know the names of his physicians.

The morning's work is done in the library. The old desk and chair and table Wilson used in his study at Princeton are there, along with thousands of volumes. Near one window hangs a bag of sticks, a reminder of a better day.

The former President and his wife have their luncheon served in the dining room. Then comes a nap of an hour and then, unless the weather is most inclement, the weather is most inclement, the morning session.

DRIVES "USED CAR."

Wilson, while President, became attached to a certain automobile. It was back as is the custom each year, to the manufacturer from whom Wilson bought it as a "used car." He had it painted black, with orange trimmings—Princeton colors. Dinner is informal; sometimes there are guests, always old friends or associates. Wilson no longer dresses for the occasion as he did.

UTILIZED BOOKS LIBRARY USED TO REBUKE PUPILS

C. Students Are Urged By Object Lessons To Preserve Volumes.

OAKLAND, Sept. 27.—Display cases of mutilated books by students at the University, the welfare committee has in its campaign against the imitation of a proctor system. Points placed on the mutilated ones point out to the students "damage done to the library and themselves. Some of these read: 'his magazine deals with teaching in high schools the subject of semantics. The student who tore the pages was proceeding on a path to destruction; addition to the exhibits of mutilated books, many of which are technical handbooks, and magazine files which cannot be replaced, the committee has signs on the lights which are set in the library. These call attention to the honor of the library, that silence and order be kept, and that speakers will also address students in the library each even calling to their attention that the inauguration of the new system would be contrary to 'honor spirit' of the university."

Roy Gardner's Swim to Safety As Told in His Alleged Letter, Declared Human Impossibility

SEATTLE, Sept. 27.—Police authorities and a multitude of others acquainted with that tide-ripped section of Puget Sound which extends from Point Defiance to Steilacoom believe now that it is impossible, although nearly or possibly a bit incredulous, of the alleged self-told story of Roy Gardner's escape from McNeil Island to the mainland, as printed in a San Francisco newspaper and relayed to the local press.

First, they reason, why should Gardner, having the whole Island radius before him, make his swim to Fox Island. Unless he escaped Steilacoom beach itself, he selected that alternative because of possible safety. He could have made the mainland of the Olympic Peninsula to the westward and the safety of its almost impenetrable forests, by a much shorter swim, or by the usual primitive method of transport across such waters—a good old cedar log, plenty of which the tide throws on the beach.

SWIM BELIEVED IMPOSSIBLE. To reach Fox Island he must swim one of the ugliest stretches of water in the world, the infest this part of the coast with sharks and channels. There is a normal tide of from twelve to sixteen feet, which means that, except for a few minutes between tides when there is flat water, the sound surges through like a mill race. If Gardner was seeking the most difficult swim in Puget Sound, with the sole exception of Deception Pass, he found it.

But over and above all of these improbabilities, say the wiseacres, is the fact that no human being, unless he had been thoroughly case hardened, or equipped with a steam heating plant, could stand that swim in that water and live. Right close by are the Nesqually flats at the mouth of the Nesqually river. The Nesqually is fed only by a glacier that drops from Mt. Rainier. The waters in that region of the sound are as cold as the Yukon, and if ever any man survived fifteen minutes in the Yukon river his name is not of record.

Seafarers, at that, are entertained by Gardner's alleged story, so much so that they are willing to rip the crown from the drooping head of Munchausen and hand it to Gardner, or whoever it may be who has sought to establish himself as the bandit's historian.

CHECKING UP LETTER. Prison authorities and postal inspectors in San Francisco, Tacoma and at McNeil Island are checking up today the letter purported to have been written by Roy Gardner, escaped train robber, to George North of the editorial staff of the San Francisco Bulletin. Details of the escape from prison as outlined by the writer of the letter have been branded by Warden Thomas Maloney as the "federal prison as false and impossible."

"Gardner did not write that letter," said Maloney. "It is a fake."

Despite Maloney's refusal to believe that it was Gardner who wrote the missive, there are federal officials who see in it unmistakable evidence that the train robber is the author. Among those who are sure that Roy Gardner has broken the silence surrounding his escape and is seeking to build a road for his return to society is Mrs. Dolly Gardner, wife of the former convict.

"It is just like Roy," she said. "He always does the thing no other human being would do."

SEARCH IS STARTED.

The letter, which in addition to revealing this escape plot contains a visit to President Harding for a pardon and a promise to renounce a life of crime, has stirred up officials to renew the search for the missing man. A belief has spread that Gardner is hiding in San Francisco, and, following out this theory, a search was started today.

Gardner in his letter told of his flight from the baseball grounds on the island toward the brush and trees, where he felt a bullet strike his leg, when he saw one of his companions whirl and fall, and as he struggled against exhaustion and forced his unwilling legs to bear him to safety. How he hid in a barn and lived for days on milk, and how, covered by shrubbery, he heard the officers talking about him are other incidents of the Gardner story as set forth in the letter.

CONVERSATIONS DENIED. These conversations, which the writer of the letter says he overheard, are what have caused the Maloney declaration that the missive is a fake.

"The conversations he describes," said Maloney, "did not take place, and the situations are impossible. For another thing, it would be impossible for any man to swim to Fox Island. No man of intelligence would attempt it. Dr. Jento and I did not discuss who shot Impy, and Impy was not anywhere near the place fixed in this letter."

GARDNER'S ALLEGED LETTER.

The letters follow:

On September 5, about 3 p.m., we were watching a ball game and during the last half of the fifth inning I turned to my partners and asked them if it was time to wreck the big game and they said yes, so I stood and cut the wires on the fence and dived through. Two others, Bogard and Penry, followed. I supposed the other two lost their nerve at the last minute because they failed to put in an appearance in the race across the field.

After running about 300 yards I turned and looked back to see how far behind the others were. I crawled about 20 feet behind me. Penry was down about 100 feet back. The other two were not in sight at all, and I figured they had been downed just after getting through the fence. That revived me like a shot of "pop."

I got up in the hay loft of the barn and stayed there two days, coming down at night and getting all the milk I could drink. That milk sure was a life-saver.

I left the barn Thursday night and made it about half way across the island going north before daylight. I lay in the brush all day Friday, the 9th, and went on to the north edge of the island that night. I watched the boats all day Saturday, Saturday night and Sunday night, and on Monday night on Sunday night or, to be exact, early Monday morning.

FAVORED BY TIDE.

If I hadn't had the tide with me I never would have made it because it was the coldest swim I ever expected to take. It probably felt colder to me than it really was on account of my having lost so much blood, but at that I believe a polar bear would freeze in that water. I thought I was a powerful swimmer but I don't think so now. What I am sure got my goat (I will have to write on the back of these pages now because I haven't any more paper.)

I stayed on Fox Island four days, milking farmers' cows and eating their apples, gaining strength every hour. I can't tell you where I went because I took a fox skin with me which I wore around my present whereabouts if I told that. I can say this much, though: I was with a friend, who is a real friend, and here I will stay until my leg is entirely healed, and that takes six months.

SAYS HE IS THROUGH.

Please tell my little wife not to worry because I am sure everything will be O. K. soon. You are at liberty to use this letter as if you care to, use the details of my escape as a news item go ahead and rewrite it to suit yourself and publish it, and if you still intend to publish my life story in book form you might add this to it as the closing chapter because this really closes my life story as I am absolutely "off" of criminal operations for life.

There is no room on earth that restricts me and more than I do and if there is any possible way to my wife and baby and mankind in general for the suffering I have caused them by my criminal acts I certainly will do anything in my power to right the wrongs I have done. I wish you would tell the world for me that I am through as a criminal. Respectfully yours,

ROY G. GARDNER.

PLEA TO PRESIDENT.

The second letter from Gardner, inclosing a message to President Harding, follows:

Dear Sir: I wish you would send the following letter to President Harding for me, as a night letter, by air. Please pray for me and send the bill to my wife and she will pay you. I am today instructing her to do so. If I can be fortunate enough to gain the President's confidence it will be a life saver for Dolly and Jean, and whether he grants me suspension of sentence or not, I am certainly "off" of crime for life.

If you have any suspicion whatever I am trying you will not betray me if you can add anything that will help my plea to Mr. Harding, please do so. I hereby grant you "power of attorney" to act for me as you see fit. Yours,

ROY G. GARDNER.

President Harding, Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir—This is an appeal to you from a penitent criminal fugitive seeking just one more chance to prove to the world that I can be a man among men. I am now a fugitive convict with two twenty-five-year sentences awaiting me. It is true, Mr. Harding, I have committed a number of crimes for which I am truly sorry.

I have spent many sleepless nights both in and out of prison trying to figure a way to atone for and undo the things I have done.

I have broken the heart of the dearest little woman that ever lived, my wife, and my little baby

WAR REALISM AT U.C. PROTESTED

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—Protest that the recruiting methods of the students for the California Guard unit are too warlike, an "excessive" amount has addressed communications, requesting that the recruiting officers be forced to use dummy ammunition in the machine guns they display.

The veteran declares that the men are using real ammunition to show off the gun, and he says that some careless student may some day pull the trigger and cause a hole in the gun, which is placed at Sather Gate. He says he witnessed many accidents from carelessness while serving as a machine gunner during the war, and declares that the lives of passing students should not be so endangered.

Mrs. Sampson WRITES PRAISE

Tanlac restored my health, and I praise it the longest day I live.

The remarkable statement made by Mrs. Joseph Sampson, highly esteemed resident of 1024 Hillvale Place, Los Angeles, Cal.

Nearly all my life I suffered from indigestion and bilious headaches, and of late years was worse than ever. I tried to be very careful in my diet, could eat nothing but a tank, and was so stuffed up and short of breath that I felt worn out and exhausted all the time. I had constant pains in my back and spine, was extremely nervous and could never sleep well.

A friend urged me to try Tanlac and the very first bottle seemed to ease my suffering. The second bottle helped me wonderfully and since taking some notes, I am enjoying perfect health. I eat nothing but what don't have an ache or pain of any kind, sleep like a child at night and have gone up from one hundred and thirty-two to one hundred and forty-three pounds in weight. I simply feel grand and think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Oakland by the Owl Drug Company and by leading druggists everywhere. —Advertisement.

CLAREMONT HOME AREA IMPERILED BY CONFLAGRATION

Oakland Brigade Called To Assist Berkeleyans On Stubborn Fire.

Desperate battling on the part of Oakland and Berkeley firemen saved several handsome Claremont residences from destruction today when a grass fire starting in the Claremont canyon swept down over the hills to the Upper Tunnel road section.

Several dozen children assembling at the open-air school of Miss Louise Myers, 1414 Alameda road, for morning classes were marched to a place of safety. The fire was raging within a few feet of the school.

OAKLAND AID ASKED.

Berkeley fire companies battled the blaze, which started at 8 o'clock this morning. When the fire gave evidences of sweeping down on palatial homes in the Claremont region a call was sent in from Oakland and several companies responded from this city. The combined efforts of the two fire departments averted serious loss, but several residences in the neighborhood were menaced.

BIG HOMES PERILLED.

Directly in the path of the flames were houses of W. B. Brattain, 1427 Tunnel road, and Dr. George P. Winterton, 227 Tunnel road, two of the most beautiful residences in the Claremont district. Other residences menaced were those of Duncan McDuffie, 136 Tunnel road, and Henry W. Taylor, El Camino Real.

Cinders from the blaze were carried down throughout the Claremont region and residents of the district formed a wide belt around their homes. On account of the heat of the day and the difficulty of reaching the hillside regions in which the fire started, unusual difficulty was experienced in fighting the blaze.

Firemen were on the scene for almost two hours after the first alarm was turned on.

FIREFIGHTERS OVERCOME.

M. T. Dolan of Engine Company 19 of the Oakland department was overcome by smoke when he was surrounded by flames and his escape ended. He was rescued and taken to the home of Mrs. Ernest S. Tanner, where he was revived.

About 100 citizens fought the blaze and aided the firemen in keeping it from spreading, and two companies of Oakland responded.

The fire started in Berkeley and crossed back and forth over the Oakland line.

GOT YOUR WRIST BOUQUET?

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Young women of the "smart set" are wearing wrist bouquets. These are pastel colored flowers attached to a band of silver or a ribbon matching the shade of the flowers.

GUILTY? Certainly Not

By causing arrests, the Medical Trust is simply making trouble again. The public should understand that the State does not examine and grant licenses to Herbalists and Chiropractors.

The Herbiest of the FONG WAN CO. has been tried by jury and acquitted on the following occasions:

1. On March 12, 1918, when Mr. R. Lewis, well-known jeweler at 11th and Washington Sts., Oakland, testified that previously to drinking the Fong Wan Herbs, he had spent over $3500 with doctors, and had gotten no relief. He further stated that he had been troubled by nervous attacks for several years and had been treated by prominent physicians in both Oakland and San Francisco without permanent results. Finally, when an operation on his spine was suggested, he had quit and had drunk the FONG WAN HERB TEAS. After seven weeks he was entirely well. This was in September, 1916, and he had experienced no recurrence of attacks since. We might add here that at the present time, five years from the time he drank the herbs, he is still well.

2. On May 8, 1919, in Oakland Police Court No. 2, it was publicly declared that the FONG WAN HERB TEA had successfully cured Stomach Trouble, Kidney and Bladder Complaints, and Dropsey. Never before had there been such an array of witnesses in a local court for any treatment. Among those who testified were Mr. John Souza, Mrs. McQuaid, Mr. Giacchetta and Mr. D. Gasbury, the addresses of all of whom are on file at the office of the FONG WAN CO.

Our herbs were legally imported from China and duties were paid to the U.S. Government. Most of our customers take their herbs home and cook themselves. We cook only for those who have no home conveniences. Therefore our selling of herbs is an absolutely legal business.

Sewing and Millinery Classes At Garfield

Sewing and millinery classes are being held at Garfield school. Sewing class meets every Thursday afternoon at 3:15, under the instruction of Miss Mary Hanlon. Millinery classes are held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:15, with Mrs. Marie Johnson as instructor. The classes are now forming, and those intending enrolling should do so at once. The instructors are paid by the pupils, who pay a nominal fee for each lesson.

The combats were a large sparrow hawk and a flock of blackbirds. The latter won. The battle raged for about twenty minutes and the two forces maneuvered with all the cleverness of aeroplanes. The hawk endeavored continually to get the birds beneath him. They or the other hawk, however, just as he kept above and slightly behind him. Then one would dive and hit him a stinging blow with the wing on the back or head.

Several times the hawk was seen to stagger from these attacks. Finally the entire flock got above Mr. Hawk and made a swoop. He saved himself by striking directly out over the bay. After chasing him for considerable distance the blackbirds turned back with a great clatter and chinking, evidently quite proud of their victory. The last seen of the hawk he was headed toward the Golden Gate.

BIGGEST JOYFEST OF YEAR Will Be Given by Tribune

Oh, boy! TRIBUNE day!
When? Thursday, October 6, at Idora Park.

This is the great, grand, glorious event of the year for the kiddies and for the mothers and dads as well, an event which has been the real day of days for the Eastbay folks—TRIBUNE Day at Idora Park—is to be revived this year.

As in years gone by The TRIBUNE will again this year play host to the people of the Eastbay communities and the entire organization of this great institution is now making ready for the gala day.

The TRIBUNE is going to make its party this year the best yet, to make up for the two years when the party was not given, because of the war. But the lack of the party in those two years will be forgotten in the wonderful time which The TRIBUNE will provide for its guests this year.

FREE JOY FOR ALL.

There's going to be free rides on all the main concessions at the popular playground and in addition there will be scores and scores of other features.

Oakland's leading merchants are joining in with The TRIBUNE to make this a regular day for The TRIBUNE'S guests.

The TRIBUNE is paying the bill for the day and tickets to the park will be available to the many friends of The TRIBUNE in the great Eastbay region. These tickets will not only admit the holder to the park but also to other benefits. Each ticket will be numbered. Then there will be a strip of tickets for each guest good for rides on the concessions at the park.

During both the afternoon and evening there will be a musical program. At 4 p.m. in the afternoon there will be a Magnavox concert. At 3 o'clock the Leo Feist Trio will sing for The TRIBUNE'S guests. The TRIBUNE Amateur players will show at 3:30 o'clock and there will be a novel wireless concert at 4:30 o'clock.

In the evening there will be a most elaborate program.

FIREFIGHTERS AT NIGHT.

There will be grand illumination of the exposed grounds at 7:45; at 8 o'clock Mother Goose will begin in the great dance pavilion. There will be a Magnavox concert at 9:15 and the Leo Feist Trio will sing at 9 o'clock. The TRIBUNE Amateur players will appear for the second time during the day at 9:15 o'clock, and the wireless concert will be played at 9:30 o'clock.

Now, remember the day, it's Thursday, October 6, and the place is Idora Park.

On that day The TRIBUNE is to host to the entire bay region and wants you to come and enjoy yourself. Bring the kiddies. They'll have a lot of fun and then everybody will be happy.

Be there. The TRIBUNE expects you.

COLLEGE TRAINING FOR PUBLIC LIFE HELD ESSENTIAL

Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt
Warns Against False Economy.

The necessity of higher education to train men and women for every department of activity in municipal government was emphasized yesterday by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt in an address on "Education a Force in the Municipality," which she delivered at the regular weekly luncheon of Oakland Kiwanis Club, at Hotel Oakland.

The wives, sweethearts and daughters of the members of the club were the guests of honor. It was the first luncheon to which the women had been invited according to Abe Leach, the president.

Stating that this is no time for false economy in educating the younger generation, Dr. Reinhardt strongly emphasized the necessity of establishing and maintaining institutions of higher learning and urged residents of Oakland to take advantage of the proximity of the University of California which she declared is one of the greatest educational institutions in the world.

"Many other communities to the East are raising funds to establish universities and colleges within their corporate limits, so that a greater number of boys and girls may receive the training necessary for citizenship," she said. "We, the residents of Oakland, have every educational advantage and should utilize it more."

"Economy should be practiced in running a city's government, but it is a false economy that curtails that which is for the city's best interests. We need men and women who are trained for citizenship in every department of the government of the municipality."

The Arion trio from the University of California furnished several musical numbers during the progress of the luncheon.

EDUCATOR HEADS SOROPTIMISTS

Miss Violet Richardson of Berkeley, director of physical education under the board of education, was elected the first president of the Soroptimist Club at the annual meeting yesterday. The chapter, one of the organization which is formed along lines similar to that of the Rotary Club, admitting but one woman from each class of business and profession, was closed with 80 members. Mrs. Sue L. Ballard of Oakland was named vice-president, with Mrs. M. D. Drexler treasurer.

Directors were chosen as follows: Miss Edna E. Kilard, Miss Doris Tilton, Mrs. Gladys R. Leggett, Mrs. Blanche Rollar, Mrs. Adelaide Goddard. The secretary will be appointed by the executive board.

The inaugural banquet and installation of the newly elected officers will take place on Monday night at the Hotel Oakland. Stuart Morrow, who organized the club, will formally present the charter. He presided as chairman at the business meeting yesterday.

CUSTODIAN OF CHIMES TOWER BOOSTS BELLS

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—Custodian H. A. Watson takes issue with the statement of a faculty man that the U C chimes are unmusical and "a pest."

Watson has been in the service of the university for more than twenty years and has been elevator operator in the tower since its completion six years ago.

Taking issue with Professor J. Loenberg, who declares that the bells are "tyrannical and cannot be escaped," Watson finds their music "loud but sweet," and declares that they remind him of the Westminster chimes which he used to hear in London.

Watson is exulting over the withdrawal of the official President David B. Browne's four new bells seem to be hung in the belfry, giving the chimes the same range as the Westminster bells. Watson says the addition of the new bells will allow Chimes Master King to play three pieces of music.

PAIR OF MASKED GUNMEN ESCAPE AFTER HOLDUP

San Francisco Man Second Victim of San Jose Bandits.

SAN JOSE, Sept. 27.—Search by San Jose police authorities for two armed, masked bandits was renewed with doubled vigor here today following the second appearance of the bandit duo last night when they held up and robbed L. Buty, 415 Jones street, San Francisco, who was walking through the residential district.

It marked the second holdup carried out by the two highwaymen since early Sunday morning, and caused the authorities to have considerable apprehension regarding further activities on the part of the gunmen.

The two masked men worked with boldness last night shortly before the stroke of midnight in the 200 block in South Eighth street, just a few blocks from where they had carried out their criminal intent of Sunday morning.

Buty was walking alone on the east side of the street when, at a point heavily sheltered by low-hanging shade trees, he was suddenly confronted by the two men, who stepped from behind a hedge at the side of the sidewalk.

"Your money or your life and be quick about it, too," was the order of the bandits. Buty started to protest, but two revolvers were stuck disconcertingly into the pit of his stomach and into his face with the result that his hands were up.

The bandits secured a small amount of cash and a valuable gold watch which they took from the victim.

Surrounding him in the dark, the two men made an effort to get him to walk on Eighth street and made good their escape.

The description of the two men, as given by Buty, tallies almost identically with that of the two men who Sunday morning held up F. E. Winn and a girl companion in North Seventh street. The police are confident that the bandits are one and the same. They are said to be men between the ages of 25 and 30.

"As a result of the new holdup, the suspicion resting on two prisoners held for investigation at the city jail has temporarily lifted, but they have not yet been released."

Center Street To Be Widened Ten Feet

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—Center street, between Shattuck avenue and Grove, is to be widened ten feet following action of the city council to-day. The plan calls for the widening of the curb line ten feet on the north, and will make the street 44 feet wide, the same width as it is on the east side of Shattuck avenue.

Bids were received today for the widening of the east part of Shattuck avenue between Bancroft way and Alton way, and were thrown out on the ground that they were too high. New bids are to be taken.

Mayor Bartlett and the city commissioners will ride in the parade in Oakland on Saturday when the Industrial Exhibition will be opened. An invitation from Mayor John L. Davis of Oakland was received to-day.

Peister, former fire chief of Manteca, now in business in Long Beach, Peister was highly efficient and became very popular during his residence here. The cup will be forwarded to him.

SITE OF PROPOSED CITY GOLF LINKS IS NATURAL PARK

Rolling wooded hills in Vargas Ranch in Foothills Are Easy of Access.

Accompanied by Jay B. Nash, superintendent of the Oakland recreation department and leader in the fight for a municipal golf course for Oakland, TRIBUNE representatives yesterday inspected the proposed site of 244½ acres of rolling wooded hills between the Sequoyah Country Club and Lake Chabot. Entrance to the property was made over the old county road through the R. C. Durant home and the exit was made over the water company road down Estudillo avenue to the Foothill boulevard.

Starting from the TRIBUNE building mileage was checked off on the speedometer at each important point. From the TRIBUNE building at Thirteenth and Franklin streets to Jones avenue and the Foothill boulevard, a distance of 7.5 miles. Then to the three roads which fork at the entrance to the R. C. Durant home is 8.4 miles, while the distance to the edge of the property over the north entrance, through the Durant ranch, is exactly 11.6 miles, making a total distance of 10 miles from the TRIBUNE building.

BEAUTIFUL SITE.

From the link in the road to the new municipal golf course, formerly the Vargas ranch, homesteaded in 1871 by Louis C. Vargas, the California land baron, is a beautiful scenic drive over a slight grade, which in time will become one of the show spots of the city. Over small creeks and through an aisle of oak and willow trees, the country road winds until it suddenly stretches out over a hill near the edge of the Vargas ranch.

J. L. Hominated estimated that this country road could be made into a boulevard at a cost of only $1,000, while George Mattis, city engineer, estimated that the 2.4 miles of scenic roads could be improved as a boulevard at a cost of $10,000. Seven sharp grades, unimproved in their present condition, could be easily made into slight inclines over which any car could travel in high gear, Mattis declared in his report.

LOCATION UNSURPASSED.

On rolling hills, divided by a shallow valley through which the county road winds, is situated the 244½ acres of land which will be made into a municipal golf course by William Watson, the city architect. From the north edge of the property across to the southern edge overlooking Lake Chabot is approximately two miles. The road there will also be improved for automobile traffic.

On the southern end of the acreage proposed to be purchased by the city is five acres of wooded land covered with oak and eucalyptus trees in which will be situated the refreshment concessions, where a building will be constructed by the city just 1200 feet from the shores of Lake Chabot. In time a small restaurant may be constructed so that even persons not wishing to take advantage of the golf course may dine at the municipal restaurant which will overlook the entire length of Lake Chabot.

BAY PANORAMA.

From a promontory toward the west end of the property can be seen every bay tributary, San Francisco bay and the Pacific ocean. Walking slowly up a slight incline, the city of Oakland, San Francisco, Sausalito and other bay cities and the beautiful San Francisco bay suddenly greets the eye. The famous San Francisco bay region, of which Oakland forms a vital part, is spread out in panorama like a colored map.

On the north end of the property the city expects to take advantage of an option of several acres of land on which a club house will be constructed. In order to make more room so that the course can be laid out as correctly as possible, the city will buy added land and then construct the clubhouse.

ROUTE TO OAKLAND.

Leaving the property by way of the water company road, the south entrance is 1.8 miles to the Foothill boulevard and Estudillo avenue. And from there into Oakland to the TRIBUNE building is 10¾ miles, making a total distance from the site of the new course to Oakland of 11¾ miles.

From the north entrance either the city or private individuals will complete a bus line, running every ten minutes, as soon as the course is completed.

Nash is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the property as a golf course, and is awaiting word from Watson, who is expected to arrive in Oakland some time this week.

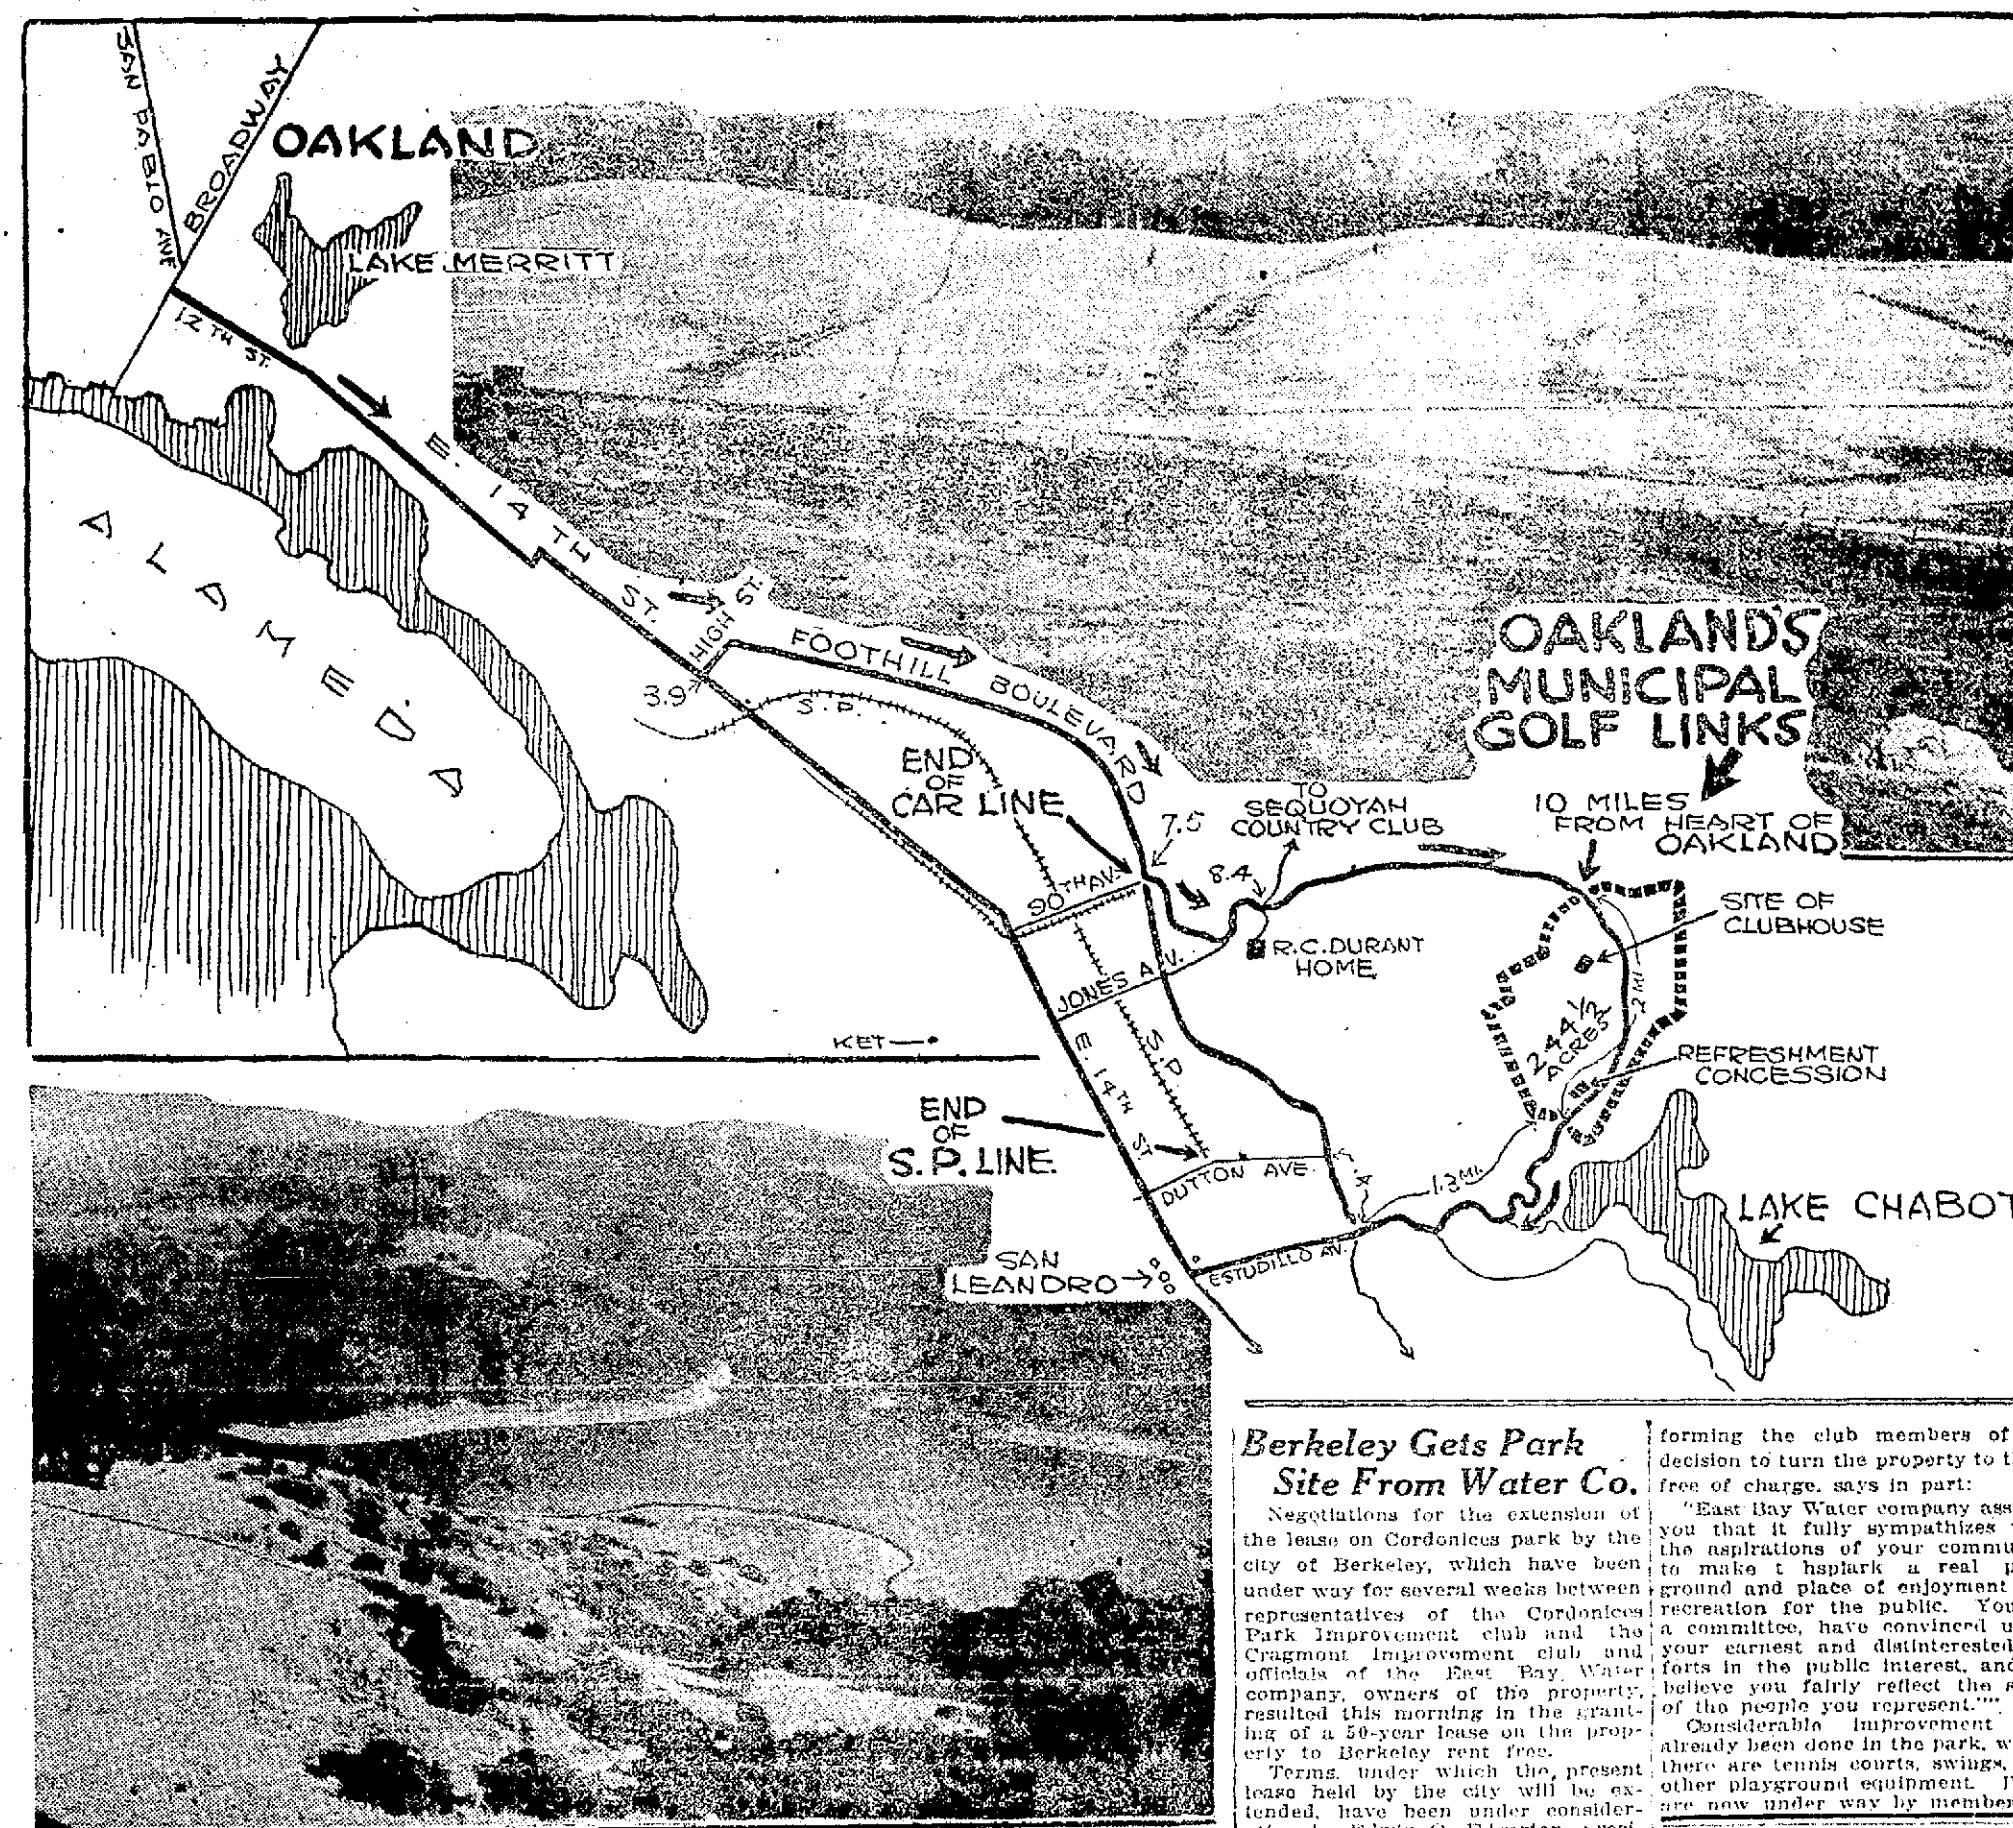

Requisition Granted For S. F. Fugitive

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 27.—Requisition for return of Roy Kane, alias Roy Baldwin, wanted in San Francisco for manslaughter, was honored late Monday by Governor Hart of Washington.

Kane is charged with driving an automobile at high speed through a closed street, running down several workmen and killing Michael Hull. Following arrest and placement under bond he fled the state and was found at Aberdeen.

SCENES THAT WILL HARBOR OAKLAND'S GOLF COURSE

Scenes of the new Oakland municipal golf course site to be purchased by the city for $27,000. At the top is shown a view of the heart of the course looking east toward the water sheds. The scene shows the rolling hills and the shallow valley dividing the 244½ acres of land comprising the course. In the center is a map drawn by The TRIBUNE artist who made the trip over the course yesterday with Jay B. Nash. In the lower is depicted the beautiful scenery from a point on the extreme southern end of the course, overlooking Lake Chabot. The Pacific Ocean, San Francisco Bay and all bay cities can be seen from the western end of the site.

ORDINANCE TO BUY CITY LOSES ITS LAND FOR LINKS FIGHT TO RECOVER PASSED TO PRINT $88,000 TAXES

City Will Get Possession on First of Six Annual Payments; Deal Assured.

Great Western Power Company Ordered To Pay $34,691.18.

The city council this morning passed to print an ordinance for the acquisition of the municipal golf links and ordered the first payment of $7500 for the property.

The action was taken on the motion of Mayor Davis, and the votes of Commissioners Bacius and Edwards were favorable. Commissioners Carter and Colbourne are out of town.

Today's action was the formal one giving to the City of Oakland its golf links, as it is admitted that the ordinance will receive its third and final passage in a week or so, after which it becomes effective in eight days. By the middle of October the city will have its links.

Under the ordinance, the city agrees to purchase the 244.5 acres of land from J. C. Marques, holder of Lake Chabot for $27,000, with a first payment of $34,691.18 and annual payments of $4000 thereafter. The city takes possession of the land on first payment.

Should the city later decide to pay no more on the property, it is agreed that this first payment of $34,691.18 shall give the city a three-year franchise instead of the Vargas land.

The ordinance was passed almost without discussion, but at the call of the vote on adjournment, Edgar A. Jones, representing the Great Western Power Company, spoke and said he wished to say a few words on the subject.

"We're adjourned," said Mayor Davis. "Anyhow, we talked that over yesterday."

"I have some additional facts and figures," said Jones.

"We're adjourned," said the mayor.

Washington Law Is Issue in Divorce Case

Does a law of the state of Washington prohibiting the remarriage of divorced persons within six months apply in California also?

This is a question confronting Superior Judge T. W. Harris in connection with the suit for annulment of marriage brought by Mrs. George Hohenstein against George Hohenstein.

Mrs. Hohenstein says she was divorced from Chester Clarke in Washington and married Hohenstein here in less than six months after he had told her he had consulted an attorney and learned that a marriage would be legal here. Her complaint declares this was false and that Hohenstein really never had an attorney at all. She also says she paid the fare of herself and husband to Iowa after their marriage on his representation that he had a home there, which statement she found to be false.

Take It In Time!

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics or poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

Why not give a fair trial to this medicine?

RAILWAY LEADER WARNS AUTOISTS OF GRADE PERIL

National Safety Council Told of B. & A. Drive to End Carelessness.

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—Automobile accidents at grade crossings are the most important of all accident questions that confront the railroads of the country at the present time, C. W. Gallaway, vice-president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, told the steam railroad section of the National Safety Council here today. He said:

"With each recurring year the increase in the number of automobiles and the greater carelessness of drivers make it very important that we devote some extraordinary effort to lessen accidents at grade crossings. We are confronted with the fact that there are 10,000,000 motor vehicles now in use in the United States."

CAMPAIGN STARTED.

"It was with alarm that I noticed the reports of grade crossing accidents, showing increases month by month in 1920, and determined to do something about it. We started the campaign by placing observers at a few crossings where travel was heavy. When the observer noticed the driver of an automobile approach the crossing and dash over it without taking any precautionary measure to assure himself that there was no train coming, the license number of the machine was noted on the card. These cards were forwarded to automobile license commissioners, who forwarded the cards to the owners of the machines."

"These cards warned the drivers or owners of automobiles that their lives and property had been risked unnecessarily and that a repetition might bring disaster."

"When we first started the observation plan we found that 84 per cent of automobiles failed to take proper precautions when crossing our tracks. In the three months of November, December, 1919; January, 1920, we made 1933 observations, and there was a total of 484 failures to take safety precautions, or 25 per cent."

CARELESSNESS DROPS.

"During 1920 there were 49,605 observations, with 8236 failures, or 16 per cent. In the first six months of this year there were 218,335 observations, and the failure reached only 8725, or 3 1/2 per cent."

"The results of our observation tests caused us to have printed more than 4,000,000 warning leaflets. There was one other means to reach the owner and driver of the automobile. That was through newspaper publicity. Our efforts to impress the dangers of careless automobile drivers to was sent out and reached 2,000,000 readers."

"With genuine and sympathetic cooperation by all the railroads in some definite plan of campaign, the accidents at grade crossings in this country can be cut to less than 1 per cent of the machines using the crossings."

Trace Ancient Race To Statue of Ape

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 27.—Did man exist on the North American continent in the paleolithic age? This question, which has baffled scientists for years, may be answered with the finding of the statue, hewn from granite of an ape holding an infant of the same species to its breast, at Selma Park, north of Victoria. This discovery may mean the solution of many theories advanced by scientists as to the probability of man migrating to the North American continent long before Baby-lon was populated.

Many students have argued that man, in the late stages of evolution came from Asia to the coasts of Canada and the United States, where the groups were gradually broken up and exterminated.

Mark Requa Takes Issue With Mayor on Charter

Avoiding reference to the main points in Mayor John L. Davie's statement regarding the charter proposed by the Board of Freeholders, Mark L. Requa, president of the Alameda County Tax Association, is out today with a defense of the city and county consolidation plan. Requa characterizes the main contention "bank" and as the answer of a politician and cites Sacramento as a city where the manager plan has been tried.

To the point raised by Mayor Davie that the city and county plan would shoulder on Oakland the political machinery designed for a county as large as the present county of Alameda, Requa has no reply. It was Mayor Davie's contention that the consolidated city and county districts are not going to support the consolidation movement and the result will be if the advocates of the plan are successful, a city and county that will embrace limits not much wider than the present limits of Oakland. Within this area, according to the charter which cannot be changed, must be appointed and employed a large number of heads of departments, commissioners, etc., pointed by the $12,000-a-year city manager. The number of officers thus made necessary, the mayor pointed out, is much larger than the present number in Oakland and would force the city to bear the burden of a system designed for a much larger area.

On May 1, the supervisors will fix the date for the election. According to District Attorney Edward Decato the date will be November 15, the original plan to have it on November 8 being abandoned because certain clerical work cannot be finished in time.

The Requa reply to Mayor Davie follows:

"The announcement of Mayor Davie that he will oppose the proposed consolidated county charter is not surprising in the light of past efforts elsewhere in the United States to defeat similar proposals."

"The Mayor announces that he is in favor of consolidated city and county government, but objects to the manager plan of government. In times past political bosses have held far more power than the manager would have, but I have never heard those bosses characterize themselves as autocrats, kaisers or czars, notwithstanding what the people might think."

FAVORS CITY BOSS.

"The pie is, of course, 'bank' and is made for the sole purpose of camouflaging the situation. It is a good idea like the squid that ejects a black cloud into the water to hide its movements."

"The manager form of government is not democratic. It is not created a kaiser or a czar. On the contrary, it is the most important step the people can take in securing real governmental improvement and real popular representation. The manager is appointed by the officers elected by the people, he is subject to dismissal at any time and is simply the agent of the people in carrying out reforms that are absolutely necessary in order to secure a more satisfactory form of government activity. There is no passing the buck and the people know just whom to recall."

"Under the new charter," says Requa, "the other elective officers are subject to recall." He does not mention, as the mayor did, that except for the council, the charter provides for but a few months.

hold responsible, something that is now often discreetly concealed. Under the new charter the elective officers are subject to recall and all necessary safeguards have been provided to give the people representative, intelligent and efficient government, something they have not had since the days of the Spanish-American War.

SMELT TOWN EXPERIMENTS.

"The manager form of government is not new. There are about 250 cities in the United States that have adopted it, and among them several in California, notably Sacramento, where the proposal carried 5 to 10 votes in the face of just such opposition as is now in evidence in Oakland and Alameda County.

Long Beach and other California cities also have this form of administration and there has been no outcry on the part of the people, so far as I know, that they were being governed by autocrats, kaisers or czars."

"It is now more than ten years since I assumed the presidency of the Tax Association of Alameda County and began investigating county and city expenditures. The results of those investigations have been published, speak for themselves and show gross and inexcusable waste of public funds. As a result of those investigations I became convinced long ago that the people are entitled to a government that will give them all of the benefits that they should enjoy, and empirically have not had in the past, is to change the system."

ALLEGED CAMOUFLAGE.

"I am consolidated to do this through a consolidated city and County charter which I have now before the people to sell myself before the Arkansans.

"All the camouflage on earth, or other similar devices, cannot alter the facts. We have been fed on glittering generalities in the past altogether too much. The people of Alameda County are not children to be frightened by a bugaboo conjured up in an effort to distort facts and hide the truth, and I am convinced that the people are fully aware of the issue they will, without hesitation, support the proposed charter as being the essence of representative and intelligent government."

SERBIA PLANNED TO SLAY LENINE, VIENNA REPORTS

LONDON, Sept. 26.—High emissaries of the Serbian government organized a plot to assassinate Lenin and Trotzky in 1918, according to the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Herald, who reports that details have been published by the Social Democratic newspaper, "Solidarnost."

M. Spahijevic, Serbian ambassador to Moscow, picked several Serbian soldiers to kill the two Soviet leaders, according to this account. He led them to believe that Lenin and Trotzky were German agents and told them to kill them in their native land.

The soldiers, however, overheard a conversation which led them to believe otherwise, and they refused to have anything to do with the plot.

Several days later, reports the Herald, who were imprisoned in Moscow and sentenced to death. Lenin himself intervened in their behalf, saved their lives and then had them deported.

EXPERT EXPLAINS TRACKLESS CARS AT CLUB SESSION

New Type of Trolley Described To Local Electric Men By Easterner.

"The gap in the transportation world between the automobile and the trolley car has been bridged with the construction of a trolley car with solid rubber tired wheels which operates over the surface of the streets and roads without a rail or truck." This statement was made yesterday at a meeting of the Electric club at Hotel Oakland, by A. V. Thompson, a representative of a large electric equipment corporation.

Thompson declared that his company already has installed the trackless trolley car in an eastern city, and that it is filling all transportation needs. It was put into operation two months ago, and transportation engineers and representatives of street car companies have come from all parts of the country to study it, according to Thompson.

Thompson pointed out that the great advantage of the trackless car is that it does away with the expense of laying and maintaining tracks. There are few public utilities corporations willing to invest a large sum of money in developing communities beyond urban trolley car lines. This hinders the development of the suburban territory. The gasoline auto bus has not solved this difficulty. But this new type of trolley, I believe, will fill the gap, for it can be laid out at an expense of $5000 to $6000 a mile as compared to $60,000 to $120,000 for a rail line.

"The car will seat thirty persons and operates with the speed and safety of the present type of street car."

Omaha Man Will Be Temporary Pastor

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—Rev. Robert E. Leavens, recently of Omaha, will occupy the pulpit of the First Unitarian church for the next three months, following the departure of Rev. Harold E. Speight for Boston. Dr. Leavens will preach his first sermon October 23. Beginning in his ministry at Channing's church in Boston in 1907 as assistant to Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham, Dr. Leavens has occupied pulpits in various parts of the country since that time.

As parish assistant and secretary the trustees have announced appointment of William Stowe Devol of this city. As farewell gifts to Dr. and Mrs. Speight members of the congregation presented each with a hand-some gold watch at a reception at the church.

Four hundred overseas veterans, members of the 363rd Infantry organization, met last night at Neptune Beach in Alameda for their second annual banquet and reunion.

Major James Ralph Jr. of San Francisco was the principal speaker of the evening.

C. L. Harper, former supply sergeant of the 363rd Infantry, was chosen president of the organization.

He was opposed by five candidates, all of whom had been commissioned officers.

got more of a "kick" out of coming to a reunion of the veterans' organization of which he is honorary president, than he did out of anything else during the year.

Following Ralph's talk, Major E. J. Mitchell and Major W. Garrison spoke on various subjects of interest to the veterans, following which an entertainment program consisting of professional entertainers was rendered. The music for the occasion was furnished by the orchestra of Oakland Post No 5 of the American Legion.

The committee in charge of arrangements was headed by C. L. Harper and A. J. Slaght.

Alameda Banishes Performing Monk

ALAMEDA, Sept. 27.—City Veterinarian Tom Carpenter and City Poundmaster Grant Hocks have passed a decree of banishment upon Jocko the Monk. Jocko belongs to a traveling dog and pony circus occupying a vacant lot at Eighth street and Harrison avenue. He bit the finger of Thomas McBride, a schoolboy of 320 Haught street.

The officials decided that the only solution was to have Jocko and his master seek new fields of endeavor.

and received his early education in the city schools. He was chief clerk of the East Bay Water company for a number of years, and in 1904 went to Los Angeles with his parents, where he was employed in the offices of the California Oakland Motor company.

About two years ago he was transferred to the San Francisco office and took up his residence in Oakland.

Gifford and his wife left Oakland for Chico Sunday, and arrived Sunday afternoon, and Gifford was taken suddenly ill immediately after dinner. He never rallied, and his death occurred the next morning from unknown cause. His uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Isard, accompanied by the family physician, Dr. Earl Daggett, left yesterday for Chico to make arrangements for returning the body to this city after the autopsy examination has been performed.

POLICE.

"The public schools make good citizenship imperative in the life of every boy and girl," said Dr. Horn, and no one can afford to be less than decent," Dr. Reinhardt told the clubwomen, "such scandals as have recently been made public could not happen."

The women are not present in court to issue verdicts or impose sentences as the learned judge intimated. They are there to cast the spotlight upon the deeds which walk in darkness.

Mother will not be deterred by people in high life from doing what they believe right to make the world a safer place for their children, even to attending court sessions," asserted Mrs. Adams, indulging in veiled references to criticisms upon San Francisco women.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

A vigilance committee in every city and town in California was urged by Dr. Bertola.

"Women have no idea that boys are outraged more than girls and parents endure it because of publicity," she declared. "If Los Angeles and Oakland and San Francisco and all the small towns between had vigilance committees we could prevent some very scandalous and unfortunate things from happening."

Motion Picture Show Scout Drive Feature

ALAMEDA, Sept. 27.—The feature in the $7000 drive at the local Boy Scouts this week will be the moving picture show which is to be staged at the Alameda High school this afternoon. The youngsters still need $3300 to meet the object for which they are aiming and it is expected that the high school performance will go far toward assisting in filling the gap.

Membership in the senior organization has proven quite popular and a great many dollars for memberships have been received at drive headquarters, Central Avenue and Oak street.

PROTECTION OF WOMEN.

The tradition that women must be protected was reviewed by Mrs. Adams.

"Why not make the world sufficiently decent that we do not need protection, but may walk unafraid beside our brothers and husbands?" she added. "We are going to devote ourselves to the making of this world a better place in which to live. We do not want a greater protection given to our girls than our boys. The mothers and fathers should stand together, but if the fathers will not, the mothers will not be deterred from public service by people in high life offering criticism of their actions."

INVESTIGATION.

In seeking an appointment of a woman delegate to the disarmament conference the federation offered the name of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The county federation will be "an open forum for the discussion of county welfare problems outside the realm of politics according to the announcement of Mrs. Rosenberg.

The charter for the proposed city and county consolidated government will be voted on at the meeting.

Establishment of scholarship funds in local clubs to aid women students in the universities was urged in a communication from the College Women's club.

MAYOR DAVIE POINTS TO EVILS OF SO-CALLED MERGER SCHEME.

Mayor Davie's statement on the pending project of a consolidated city and county government in Alameda county, published in full in yesterday's TRIBUNE, is distinguished both for its timeliness and for the unerring precision with which it turns the spotlight on several of the most objectionable features of the charter on which the people will vote next month. Oakland's chief executive has examined this scheme from the viewpoint of how it will affect Oakland. He speaks for the safety of Oakland, with utter absence of any thought of harm for the other important municipalities in the county.

The first and most important point in Mayor Davie's statement is the certainty of major county division should the advocates of the merger scheme successfully make all their steps in their campaign. Mayor Davie states what every one knows when he says that "the whole question has resolved itself into a proposition for a city and county of Oakland alone."

He points out that Alameda and Berkeley will certainly vote against the first proposition of county-wide consolidation, to say nothing of the similarly certain adverse vote of other municipalities in the county.

The significance of this is that if the alternative plan is submitted at a subsequent election it will be a scheme for a city and county of Oakland which would include the present city with only Piedmont and Emeryville added and these towns annexed solely because they have been deprived of the right of self-determination.

This is exactly the position which The TRIBUNE has maintained since the agitation for a so-called city and county consolidation was first started, when it was discovered that the proponents of the scheme purposed to make use of the provision of the law that Oakland was the only "residential city" in the county and thus enabled to execute the county division movement. The Mayor of Oakland emphasizes the fact that this warning is not merely a fear, as the advocates of "consolidation" have insidiously charged, but a real, present danger in view of the known sentiment in Berkeley and Alameda on the merger question.

Another point of great importance—and Mayor Davie is the first citizen publicly to call attention to this feature—is that the entire organization of government which the freeholders have designed ostensibly for the whole county as a single political unit must, under the alternative plan, be imposed upon the city and county of Oakland alone. No substantial amendment of the original charter is possible at the hands of the freeholders. All that they can do is to change the boundary lines of the boroughs and reduce the number of councilmen. All the numerous offices created for the county-wide government must be continued for the lesser area.

This is not to be understood as a blunder of the freeholders. Unfortunately the constitutional art under which they worked restricted their freedom of action. It required them to adapt to the lesser, or alternative, area the same government they devised for the county wide area. But this is not the slightest justification for accepting the scheme for a city and county of Oakland, no more than there is justification for thinking of dividing Alameda county in order to set up a separate city and county of Oakland.

Mayor Davie asserts this scheme of county government, if shouldered on the people of Oakland alone, would prove "vastly more expensive and cumbersome than any Oakland has ever known or dreamed of." He is unquestionably correct in that statement.

Mayor Davie calls attention also to the fact that the proponents of the so-called consolidation project, which if carried far enough can mean only county division, are attempting to do directly what he proposed openly and directly, with the vital exception that he proposed a change of government under which the head thereof charged with the administration of public affairs would be held directly accountable to the electors.

The proposed charter provides for a city manager, whose minimum salary shall be $12,000 a year, who shall be delegated unprecedented and almost absolute administrative and executive powers. He shall hold the power of appointment of all officials charged with the enforcement of State laws, the preservation of the public order, the protection of life, health and property, the administration of public possessions, and shall himself have supervision of all the public utilities. He is not subject to recall proceedings.

This is palpably a dangerous and wholly unwarranted invasion of the people's power to control government and an unwise delegation of that power to a paid functionary not responsible to the people. When Mayor Davie proposed the separation of Oakland from the rest of the county it is to his credit that he proposed to place a larger measure of government in the hands of officials directly responsible to the people.

County division under any circumstances would be a dismal and irreparable misfortune to the great Eastbay district; but it is inconceivably bad when advanced covertly and by devious indiscretion, when it is proposed in addition to county division to impose upon the principal city an autocratic government with a multitude of expensive offices designed for the whole community.

Mayor Davie makes a plea to save the expense of several elections and to eliminate at once the danger impending by voting down the proposed consolidation charter at the first election next month. Alameda and Berkeley will vote against it. Oakland surely does not wish alone to take on the heavy burden of the new government the freeholders have planned.

THE RED CROSS CONVENTION.

The National Convention of the Red Cross which is to be held at Columbus, Ohio, next week, is apt to prove one of the most important and interesting this organization has convened.

The country being nearer to normal conditions than it has been since the opening of the war, the Red Cross is able to contemplate in a clearer atmosphere its peace time problems and opportunities for service.

During the last four years, the contribution of the Red Cross to humanitarian service has been large. Its workers have been numerous and its financial resources adequate for much useful and beneficial work. During the war the membership and sustaining friends of the organization were more numerous than ever before known.

And there has constantly been present of late the thought of how much recession of popular interest in Red Cross activities would be recorded after the urge of the war and its immediate aftermath had passed; how much of the enormous energy created during the war period would be lost to peace.

It has been highly gratifying to note the sustained interest of the people everywhere in the Red Cross. The stirring days of a few months ago have not been forgotten as readily as many feared. The impulse for service for the suffering and afflicted is still warm and lively.

And vast opportunities for Red Cross service remain with us. The Columbus convention will discuss these opportunities with much earnestness. There is a large field for educational activities, such as home hygiene and care of the sick, health service, prevention of disease, etc. Other subjects demand attention. An effort will be made to give more or less permanent balance to the peace time activities of the Red Cross.

THE OPEN DOOR.

The United States from the time of its origin to the present time has had two positive policies in the western hemisphere, the Monroe Doctrine; in the Far Eastern part of the other hemisphere, the Open Door. In the western hemisphere the Monroe Doctrine centers on the Caribbean Sea. In the Far Eastern part of the other hemisphere the Open Door hinges on China.

Once we cooperated with Great Britain, France and Holland in securing a certain phase of what might be called "Openness" in Japan. In 1862 we joined Great Britain, France and Holland in compelling Japan to open the Shimonoseki straits between Japanese shores to an interior Japanese sea. Today Japan is strong enough to do what it pleases (if it pleases to do it) with its own land and water and trade. China is not. China is without the strength either to prevent foreigners from thrusting openness upon it or to prevent foreigners from using that openness unfriendly toward China and unfriendly toward one another.

The Open Door, opened to its logical full, does lead toward the ultimate "liberation" of China.

Historically, we were for the Open Door long before there was any theory about the ultimate "liberation" of China. The Open Door is very old treatise of ours with China. It is also in the famous notes that John Hay addressed to France, Italy, Germany, Russia, Great Britain and Japan, in 1899, and in 1900, and that they accepted. These notes expressly assume and mention "spheres of interest" and "leased territories" possessed by foreign governments in China. They give themselves to promoting "perfect equality of treatment" in economic affairs for the nationals of all countries, even within those special "spheres of interest" and "leased territories" thus recognized as existing.

The Open Door policy which we shall press upon the Washington conference is grounded on accepted documents, which in turn are grounded on accepted and acknowledged Chinese situations. What we seek now for the Open Door is a more precise agreed definition.

Everybody is fond of the phrase "Open Door" as a motto. The Open Door policy today is like "Well-come" on a door-mat; it is hospitality at the door, but it does not prove that the stranger will get when he gets in. From "God and Chess at the Washington Conference," by William Hard, in Asia Magazine for October.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The reported probability that the American soldiers are not to be withdrawn from the Rhine may greatly perturb those members of Congress who have been excited about it; but from all accounts it will considerably please the soldiers themselves.

Interesting story is that which tells about Kubell putting a life belt on his $125,000 violin when a steamer casualty seemed imminent. CIG BUDGETS FOR 25 YEARS SAYS ELSTON

Despite War Debts and Cost of Government Conditions Are Favorable Compared With Europe, He Declares

The financial condition of the United States is highly favorable compared to that of other nations, Congressman J. Arthur Elston told members of the Berkeley Defense Corps last evening.

That $3,500,000,000 budgets will be the rule for the next twenty-five years was Elston's prediction. The saving effected in reducing armaments if the conference at Washington is effective will be the figure in his opinion, but the outcome of this meeting, the Congressman declared, was problematical.

CONDITIONS FAVORABLE.
"Our condition, however, is favorable compared to that of most European nations," said Congressman Elston. "Our national income is about seven and a half billion dollars. In other words, after paying the expense of our federal government, we Sons and Daughters of Russ Aristocrats Arrive on Liner to Take Courses at U. C.

Russian students of the old regime who have come to take post-graduate courses at University of California

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 27.—Twenty-two young men and women from Russia, all members of the aristocracy, have come to the University of California to take post-graduate courses. The students have come here in response to a direct invitation from President David P. Barrows of the University of California and the arrangements have been completed through the Y. M. C. A.

Dimitry D. Ushakov, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Harbin, is the leader of the party and is accompanied by Mrs. Sophia K. Ushakov. All were students at various Russian universities and were assembled at Harbin. Arrangements have been completed for the transfer of like parties every few weeks and ultimately there will be more than a thousand students transferred to the United States.

"The University of California was given the preference because of the keen interest displayed by Dr. Barrows in our country," said Ushakov. It is probable that other students will have to go to other universities, because it is not likely that we can enroll so many at Berkeley. All would come to California if it were possible.

The plan is to have each student complete a term of from four to seven years, after which they will return to Russia. By that time, it is expected that conditions will be normal, the present unstable conditions eliminated by a substitution of something as stable and more satisfactory than that which prevailed

GOOD TIMES MORBID, HIS NOW BANKERS TELL COAST WIFE SAYS

Reginald E. Sweetland Sued For Divorce, His Spouse Claiming He Has No Interest in Her or Children

Reginald E. Sweetland, public school teacher and formerly University of California student, has a violent temper, is morbid and sultry, and frequently refused to speak to his wife for long periods, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Adeline Sweetland, filed with County Clerk George F. Gross today.

Mrs. Sweetland charges that her husband declared he was ashamed to be in her company, frequently absent himself from home, many times said he had no interest in her or their children, refused to take her to places of recreation or to their friends' houses, and he would not use for her, and told her he would not be responsible for the physical consequences if they resumed marital relations.

They were married in Hollister September 13, 1916, and separated September 12 last. Mrs. Sweetland says her husband earns $2,000 a year and asks for reasonable alimony and the custody of two small children. She claims he has no money and is unable to support them.

Other bankers similarly placed themselves on record. They said they were extremely anxious to enjoy the sights of San Francisco and would spend a week in the city, making Alameda, and Alameda planning to be in Los Angeles only in time for Monday's opening. A still larger delegation is reported to have left the East and will attend the convention first before being brought here.

Joseph Caine, managing director of the Chamber of Commerce, and a delegation of Oakland bankers and business men went to San Francisco to meet the visiting bankers and officials from throughout the nation. It was expected that a delegation would come here tomorrow to be entertained.

Student Admits Cheating at "Ex's", Gets New Chance

BERKELEY, Sept. 27.—A student with a long distance conscience reported to the students' affairs committee at the university yesterday and admitted having used irregular means to pass an examination several years ago.

The student was graduated from the university last year, and since that time has been taking post-graduate work in a professional course. His conscience bothered him; however, and he decided that before he completed his work he would like to straighten out the matter. He appeared before the committee and told his story. The students' committee recommended the lightest possible punishment in the case, telling the student that he would be allowed to take a re-examination if the instructor wished him to, otherwise the matter would be dropped.

DUFFY LEWIS, CANNED FROM MAJORS, LEADS P. C. L. HITTERS

MELROSE MERCHANTS WILL HAVE THEIR BEST CLUB EVER IN TRIBUNE MIDWINTER LEAGUE

BEE OUTFIELDER MAY BE FIRST IN P. C. L. TO FINISH OVER .400 MARK

Hack Miller Again Leads Oakland Sluggers; Wonder Why the Majors Let Duffy Lewis Go?

By EDDIE MURPHY.

If Duffy Lewis, outfielder for the Salt Lake Bees, can keep the Oakland pitchers from chopping ten points off his batting average this week, the Pacific Coast League will probably for the first time in history wind up its season with a .400 hitter who played in at least half the games. Duffy had ten points lopped off his average by the Vernon pitchers last week, but he is still at the .409 mark, and it is quite likely that he will get enough hits during the closing week of the season to keep him over the .400 mark. Pacific Coast League fans have to doff their hats to Duffy Lewis, the Alameda boy. When it was announced that he was coming back to the minors shortly after the start of the season, many fans picked him as a down-and-out idol who would prove another lemon for the Salt Lake Club owners. But the Salt Lake owners have been rewarded for the chance they took, and they and Manager Gavvy Cravath will not have to worry as much about rounding up a club next year as they did this season.

True, it takes more than one ball-player like Duffy Lewis to make a winning club, but a manager very seldom gets the credit he deserves. Most of us know around such stars as Lewis, Cravath, Ferone and Strand are the other outfielders now with the Bees, and just by any means of the score sheet, their new manager is doubtful. Brown has also done some service in the outfield. The chances are that Cravath, for one, is undimmed after the close of the season and is in excellent form for next year. Unless Duffy Lewis decides to quit the game, he is going to be a big help to Cravath in preparing for next year.

Lewis' Best Friends Thought He Was "Finished" Ball Player.

When Lewis made his first appearance in the bay district with the Bees, it was said that several of the old-timers thought he was finished. Lewis, however, got an opportunity to get him back into the starting line-up, and he has hit at Salt Lake, and he has hit it often in some places.

At the time Lewis was signed by the Bees, it was said that several other clubs had offered him to the Indians, and he had just been given an opportunity to get him back into the starting line-up. Lewis was having trouble judging fly balls, and his first appearance on the Oakland land proved it, for he let two easy fly balls get away from him, and go into the stands.

Lewis, it is known, is not the greatest with his eye fixed on the ball, and he has been disengaged with him, but, as the one-time world series star stuck with the Bees just to prove he is still a friend to them.

He laughed. Ha Ha! Ho! Ho!

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BILLIE'S WHISKERS.

One day, when Uncle Wiggily was about to start out from his hollow stump bungalow to look for an adventure, he heard a voice calling after him:

'Oh, Uncle Wiggily! Wait a minute!

At first the bunny rabbit frantically thought perhaps it was Nurse Jane. Then he turned back to ask him to eat something for her at the ten and eleven cent store.

'Or maybe it is the Fuzzy Fox, wanting to catch me because I stuck him all up with molasses and dried leaves last week!' thought Uncle Wiggily.

But when he turned to look back, through his pink nose the white saw Billie Wagtail, the goat boy.

'Why, Billie! How is it you aren't in the hollow stump school?' asked Uncle Wiggily. 'The lady mouse teacher will not be pleased at you for staying away from school.'

'Well, the lady mouse teacher sent me off to school in Billie's coat.'

'After me? What for?' Uncle Wiggily wanted to know.

'She wants you to come to school,' went on the goat boy.

'Ha! Ha!' laughed the bunny gentleman. 'My school days are over! Of course, that doesn't mean I have given up learning; after all, school is only a school. But what does the lady mouse teacher wish me to come to school, Billie boy?'

'We're going to have a little entertainment—speaking pieces and the like of that,' answered the goat chap.

'I'm going to speak a piece myself!' 'Then I must speak one too,' said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh, 'I can look for an adventure another time.'

So the bunny rabbit started off on the woodland path with Billie the goat, and, almost before they knew it, an adventure happened.

'All of a sudden, out from behind a bush, jumped the bad old Skilly Scally Alligator and his mate, Mrs. Skilly Scally. In one paw, and he caught Billie in his other paw, and pulled them into his cave, which was not far away.

'I have you now!' snarled the Gator.

'Yes, it does seem so,' sadly said Uncle Wiggily. 'What are you going to do with us?'

'Perhaps we will be kind enough to let us go,' said Billie, hopefully.

'Indeed I will not,' snapped the Skilly Scally Alligator with the humps on his tail. 'I have you, and now I am going to keep you. And you can easily guess what for,' he said as he looked at Uncle Wiggily's ears, before he devoured them.

'Oo! Gaaah! sighed the bunny gentleman. 'Will nothing I can say or do make you let us go?'

'No!' gasped the Gator.

'Oh, I know what I can do,' suddenly exclaimed Billie, and, leaning over, he whispered in the ear of the Alligator.

'"Ouch! Stop that!" suddenly cried the bad chap, squirming around on the end of his tail.'

'Stop what?' asked Billie.

'Your whiskers tickled me,' said the Gator, who could hardly keep from laughing out loud. And he well knew that would never do. For once he began laughing he couldn't stop.

And he laughed so hard he would tangle himself up in a double knot, and then Uncle Wiggily and Billie could get away.

'I didn't tickle you with my whiskers,' bleated the goat boy. Though he had a little bunch of whiskers growing under his chin, as all goats do.

'Yes you did tickle me,' said the Gator, 'and I didn't hear what you said, anyhow.'

'Then I'll say it again,' went on Billie, slyly wrinkling one eye at Uncle Wiggily. Again the goat boy leaned over and whispered in the ear of the Gator. Billie's whiskers went chasing themselves up and down on the Alligator's neck, just like...

'"Ouch! Stop it! Oh how you tickle!" cried the bad chap. But Billie didn't stop. He kept on whispering in the Gator's ear, and his whiskers kept on tickling until finally the bad creature gave a howl. Then he laughed: 'Ha! Ha! Ha! Ha!' and he tied himself up in a double knot, laughing so hard and Billie cried.

'Now our chance, Uncle Wiggily! We can run away!' And he ran away. They did. The Gator laughed so loud from the tickling of Billie's whiskers that he couldn't chase them, and soon the two friends were safe at the hollow stump school.

'What did you whisper to the Gator?' asked Uncle Wiggily.

'Just nothing at all,' laughed Billie. 'I went "Buzz! Buzz! Buzz!" in his ear. It was my tickling whiskers that made him laugh.'

Then Billie's eyes lit up. 'I ran school and the other animal children spoke their ears and everything was all right, and then the kids took work do a tiny little dance on top of the chimney to make the tableware laugh. I tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Greedy Gump.'

ALL READY.

When they were finished, the Chinaman took Harry and went down an elevator.

Luckily Mr. Smith saw him do so and followed. They went down a long way. Finally when they stopped, it was very damp down there.

Mr. Smith took hisromatic out and hit the Chinaman over the head. He fell unconscious, but he was not dead.

Harry and his father were so glad to see each other that they touched button! They began to go up. They were with the detectives very soon.

They went up of the hollow tree and down around in no house and down to be seen. They went down to the harbor and a boat from America had come for Harry and Mr. Smith.

He thanked the detectives and

Daily ALMANAC

by A. Schuster.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 27.

Way back in 1823 there was born a man who developed a great idea. It was Thomas H. Dodge and it was his opinion that letters which could not be delivered should be returned to the senders. Nobody had ever thought of such thing before and there were a lot who thought Dodge was a bit uppity in his suggestion. In 1830 the Choctaw Indians ceded their land to the United States in the Treaty of Dancing Rabbit. Myrtle Reed, author of "Love Letters of a Musician," was born in 1874.

*When I take my rod and can and bait,
My net and flies, I wish
You would not always ask of me,
Are you going out to fish?*

*And why, when I take out my pipe
And start me in to poke
The burley in the yarning bowl,
Do you say, "Going to smoke?"*

MOST STRAORDINARY.
"Lowell Sherman," says the Associated Press, "will not be forced to return to San Francisco if he comes voluntarily."

The San Francisco burglar who entered a home and stole nothing but $75 canary may have figured that it was time for him to shift from wine and women to song.

This oil strike isn't the one that was promised in the prospectus mailed us a number of weeks ago.

BILL BONES, the one who brings in the latest developments from the waterfront, tells us that he recently engaged in a terrific struggle with a strange creature that emerged from the estuary. The creature, says Bill, was dressed in white and an air of mystery. It carried a knife in its bootleg and a number of affidavits to prove it was mysterious and terrible. Bill says the animal threatened him with murder and habeas corpus and that when it was downed it said it would have the law on him. According to Bill, the creature is very upright and is maintaining that he was the law and that he had taken himself in his own hands. After the fight he made fearsome high signs and disappeared muttering something about "Coo, Chucks, Clam." Bill says the waterfront whisky is not as good as it used to be.

*A Ku Klux rides a livery horse
And he wears a cheese cloth gown;
Oh, gosh, but he's mysterious
When he rides into town.*

Add to horrors of fire fighting. During the fire in the Berkeley ukulele factory a stream from one of the chemical wagons played on a hundred ukuleles at once.

The boy who stood on the burning deck must give way, at last, to those Berkeley firemen who followed him into the seething ukulele plant. It is test enough to meet the individual ukulele on the highways and in the homes of the unregenerate, but imagine facing swarms of them in a burning building. Imagine the effect on one's nerves to direct a stream of water into a cloud of smoke and to hear the clink and clang of ukulele strings. Imagine, if you can hold out, being called upon to save the life of a ukulele! Or, to stand in the sparks and heat and hear them pleading and moaning, their heartstrings and e-strings snapping in anguish and you all the time, helpless duffer that you are, unable to do anything to ease their suffering!

However, if we ever receive advance notice of a ukulele factory fire we will build a section of bleachers and sell tickets.

Chips Off the Block

by Robert Quillen

Some men are born poor, and some monkey with the stock exchange.

Still, this coo clucks organization has a harmless, barn-yard sound.

If you can't lick him, flatter him. It amounts to the same thing in the end.

The tired business man probably gets that way reading advice about how to get back to normal.

A congressman informs us that every great business man has his hobby. Doesn't he mean lobby?

"Tariff tinkerers are not satisfied with their work." That, apparently, makes it unanimous.

The book salesmen can get almost every man's signature on the dotted line if he will say that he is offering the work to intellectuals only.

What did ships do for a living in the old days before they began to bring immigrants to America?

As people grow older, they lose faith in Santa Claus and begin to look to the federal treasury.

Every once in a while you see a headline that doesn't say anything about anybody getting killed.

A man may forgive you if you ridicule his children, but not if you ridicule his home brew formula.

To the lay mind, about the only difference between golf and old-fashioned "shiny" is plaid stockings.

When a negotiator says his patience is exhausted, he probably means that his epithets are exhausted.

Most of the light touring cars are designed to hold five passengers or twelve girls.

Lenine has executed a few more princes. Apparently they were overlooked during the spring house-cleaning.

Man is never raved over by the ladies except when he is three months old and when he becomes a movie star.

The best movies nearly always get through introducing all of the scene shifters before the first reel is exhausted.

If it accomplished nothing else, the war improved the average American's batting average in the matter of geography.

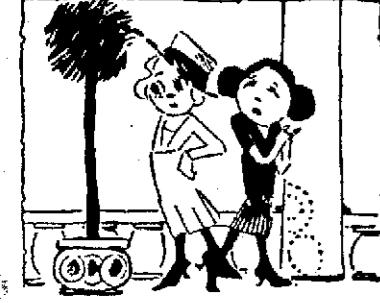

A congressman remarks that man is no greater than his convictions. Neither, for that matter, is a system of jurisprudence.

You can judge of a man's richness by the size of his kennel, and judge of his poverty by the number of hounds about the yard.

One reason why Germany is leading the way back to normal is because she doesn't have to waste any energy to preserve her sphere of influence.

PACIFIC FOOD PRICES AND WORLD'S COMMERCE

PRODUCE PRICES BETTER; GRAPES BRING $140 TON

Whole Market Feels Improved Tone; New Almonds Are Offered.

Notable strengthening of prices in nearly all divisions of the Oakland produce market was felt today.

The most pronounced advance came in fancy muscat grapes when offerings were taken at the rate of $140 a ton. Tokayes were as high as $125 a ton, although the average was $75. Thompson seedless, of which the end is in sight, and Isabellas kept pace.

In fruit, most peaches were better demanded and a scattering of plums were offered at $1.25 a ton. Figs also commanded somewhat improved prices.

Sizes of melons generally were 10 cents better on the crate for cantaloupes and fractionally better on larger varieties.

In the vegetable market tomatoes continued to move upward trend and today were sold at from $1 to $1.75 a lug as against an average of $1.25 yesterday. Peas have gone as high as 25 cents and beans today brought 10 cents more.
